

Wines by the Glass

Featured wine

“Indica” was one of Lioco's breakout wines. First bottled in 2006, a blend of old vine Carignan and Petite Sirah. Few had heard of Carignan, and those who did had a poor association with it. But we believed in it, loved the heirloom nature of those gnarly vines, and took it to the marketplace. Our vision took off and we became victims of our own success. Carignan became immensely popular, and the fruit prices sidelined us. The 2014 vintage was our final offering. Loyal consumers and salepeople sorely missed the wine, as did we. In 2018, we began the hunt for new sources, and methods of production. Two existing growers stepped in to make it happen: Athan Poulos from Lolonis Vineyard with Valdiguié and Jim McCutchen with some Carignan. Indica lives on!

All fruit was hand-harvested in late September. It was foot tread and fermented beneath a sub-merged cap, 100% whole cluster during an 18 day fermentation. 10 months aging in neutral oak prior to bottling.
